DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. This application has been filed with informal drawings which are acceptable for examination purposes only. Formal drawings will be required when the application is allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

3. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Fujiwara et al. (US 6,346,949).

Re claims 1, 4, and 8, Fujiwara discloses a camera for getting information upon three dimensional shape, comprising:

an image taking device (5 of fig. 1) for taking an image of an object within a region (P1-PK of fig. 1) to be photographed;

a projector (50 of fig. 1) for projecting a pattern light, slit light, on the region, and a monitor (1 of fig. 1) for displaying the image of the object which the image taking device takes (MX of fig. 3), in which the monitor has a memory (30 of fig. 1) for storing the image of the object the image taking device takes when the projector does not project the pattern of the region (MX of fig. 3);

wherein the image taking device takes a projection pattern which is formed on the object within the region by the pattern light that the projector projects (GX of fig. 3), and wherein the monitor displays the image, stored in the memory of the object, instead of the image of the object the image taking device takes with the projector projecting the pattern light on the region(col. 3, lines 1-11),

Re claims 2-3, 5-7, 11-13, Fujiwara further teaches wherein the pattern light is not a uniform light and has a distribution of illuminance (Visible light of fig. 1), and the projection pattern which is formed on the object within the region by the pattern light comprises at least one stripe which is slit light; wherein the pattern light comprises a colored light (color image) where the color is defined in a range (col. 3, lines 59-67), and wherein the pattern which is formed on the object within the region by the pattern light comprises a color part (col. 4, lines 1-14).

Re claim 9, Fujiwara further teaches a second memory, memory devices such as hard disk (col. 3, lines 15-16) for storing the image of the object the image taking part takes, wherein the second memory output the image of the object, thus stored to the first memory which is system memory in CPU 1 as shown in the figure 1 successively.

Re claim 10, Fujiwara further teaches the second memory is prohibited from being outputted to the first memory (col. 3, lines 20-27); when image taking part which is two dimensional of the object, takes the image of the object in the state in which the projector projects the light on the points (P1-Pk of fig. 1) of the object (3 of fig. 1) with the predetermined pattern (col. 3, lines 45-58).

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Futamura et al. (US 6,075,605) discloses a shape measuring device.

Yano et al. (US 6,031,941) discloses three-dimensional model data forming apparatus.
